A colorful illustration of a town skyline. The scene features rolling green hills in the foreground. In the background, there are several stylized buildings: a large multi-story building with a clock tower, a smaller house, a tall thin building, and a modern skyscraper. There are also various types of trees, including deciduous and coniferous. A red bus is driving on a road in the foreground, carrying several passengers. A small bird is flying in the sky. The overall style is bright and cheerful, using a palette of greens, blues, and reds.
